Foster Loucks announces plan to retire

Haliburton Highlands Health Services will soon be initiating the process to find a new Chief Executive Officer. Current CEO Foster Loucks announced his intention to "ease into retirement" at the HHHS Board retreat Thursday.

Loucks noted in his resignation letter that there is "no urgency with respect to the timing involved, and I would hope and recommend that we take as much time as needed in order to ensure that the best possible candidates are sought out, and that the Board and our community are satisfied with the eventual outcome. I am prepared to stay on in my current role for another year, or until the succession process has been completed; this would be accomplished, I'm sure, by this time next year."

Retirement, for Loucks, does not mean a complete separation from his profession. He said he will remain in the area and would be willing to accept some short term contract work with HHHS or to work on a project basis when and if his talents are required.

"During the period of transition, I will need to commit my energies and attention fully to the HHHS agenda. It will be important that we not lose momentum and that we continue to advance health service delivery in our area. Even as I prepare to retire, I am very interested in assuring that our progress and development to date continues, and will do what I can to assist down the road, albeit in an alternative capacity."

It is difficult to tell who is more proud of this special moment. The young girl seems justifiably proud as her Golden Retriever responds to her command. The dog, on the other hand, appears equally pleased having completed the trick. The pair was competing in the best trick contest of the Pet Show at the Haliburton County Fall Fair August 18.

Colourful and noisy, the troupe re-enacting a tableau from the war of 1812 was one of this year's unique attractions at the fair.

Fair attendance disappoints board

Despite the efforts of the organizers, attendance was down this year at the Haliburton County Fall Fair. Paul Walker, president of the organizing group, expressed disappointment at the decrease in the numbers.

"We had a lot of new events and popular traditional fall fair activities," he noted. "The weather on Saturday was ideal, not too hot, and although it rained a bit on Sunday, it didn't seem like enough to chase anyone away."

The president pointed to the 1812 re-enactment as one of the new features this year. The group, which draws its members from across the province, marched through town in the parade, stopping a number of times to fire their muskets. The group set up camp at the fairgrounds and spent the night right on the site. Some of the authenticity of their display was impacted by the fire ban which was still in place during the fall fair weekend. To complete the tableau, the members of the organization would have been cooking over open fires, much as the soldiers they were portraying did.

$1,000 DONATION: The Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation is $1,000 closer to its goal thanks to vintage automobile enthusiasts and their supporters. The Haliburton Highlands Time Travelers presented the cheque to HHHSF Chair Gord Monk at the Cruise Night in Minden Thursday evening. The funds were raised through raffles and donation jars at various locations. The cheque was presented to the Foundation in memory of the club members who have passed away. On hand for the presentation were, left to right: HHHSF Chair Gord Monk and Time Travelers representatives John Francis, John's granddaughter Dakota Francis and Karl Feuerpfel. The Time Travelers gather every Thursday evening, alternating between Minden, at Kawartha Dairy, and Haliburton, at the Town Dock parking lot.

Paul Walker is the president of the Minden Agricultural Society, a fact we incorrectly reported in last week's front page cutline.

Sunday, the re-enactment squad went through a firing drill while a member of the organization explained to the audience what was taking place.

Walker pointed out that this was a colourful, interesting display that was included in the cost of admission to the grounds, but appeared to attract minimal interest.

"We tried hard to provide a varied show with new things to catch people's interests," he said. "It is disappointing that the fair did not attract more people."

The one bright note was the country and western video dance Saturday evening which attracted over 600 participants. "We had to close the doors Saturday," Walker said.

This contrasts sharply with the "tribute" concert Friday night with performers impersonating well-known country stars. This event attracted just 150 people.

In other areas, he noted that the midway provided a good variety of rides and attractions. The number of entries (except for vegetables) in the exhibit building was up and most of the livestock related competitions attracted an equal or greater number of participants than previous years. It appears the fair had everything going for it, except people coming through the gate.

Members of the Agricultural Society will be examining the event to determine how it can be improved. "We would also like to hear from the public," Walker said. "We want them to tell us what they want."

Residents are reminded of the blood donor clinic scheduled for Tuesday, September 4 in Haliburton Village.

The Canadian Blood Services agency will be hosting the clinic at the Haliburton Legion Hall from noon until 7 p.m. To make it more convenient, donors can make a donation appointment for a specific time. The clinic will also welcome donors at anytime.

HHHS CEO wants more time to pursue personal interests

Loucks said he is willing to do whatever is necessary to make the transition for the new CEO as smooth as possible, but at the same time, he added, "The old boy should never get in the way."

"Life is fleeting," he added. "I think back to some of those trips back from Peterborough at 10 o'clock at night in February when I wondered what am I doing here?"

"I've been thinking that the next 10 years (of my life) will be better than the 10 years after that," he said. With that in mind, he said he will take advantage of the next several years to do some of the things that a hectic schedule has forced to a back burner. He said he wants to take more control of his life and spend more time with his family.

Developing his computer interests and learning how to read (for pleasure) again are a couple of the things he plans to do when he has more time to himself.

"There is a time when consideration should be given to other priorities and pursuits in life. This is what my request is about. I want more flexibility in my schedule, more time for family, and more occasions to pursue other interests," he said. "My present role requires a pace and stamina that conflicts too often with everything from spare time to the aging process, including knee and ankle joints that seem more arthritic every year."

The decision to retire was not an easy one.

"Obviously, I am making this decision with some misgivings. My role at the HHHS has been filled with incredible opportunity to build and lead an organization literally from inception to its current form. Seldom does a CEO in any industry have the chance to create a new organization and to participate in its formation from the ground up. Today, I am proud of our accomplishments and of the framework now in place and ready to meet what will always be the unrelenting challenge of health care delivery. I am extremely grateful for the support and assistance given to me by the Board of Directors and by our staff."

Loucks will be missed by the organization when he leaves.

"He provided excellent leadership, particularly through the turmoil of the planning, the disruption caused by the construction and expansion of various programs," said HHHS Board Chair Jack Brezina. "We certainly appreciate Foster's desire to slow down. We're also comfortable that we have good managers in all key positions to assist both Foster and the new CEO through the transition."

Twelve Mile-Little Boshkung cottage owners uncover the truth Is there something slow about Tim Hortons coffee drinkers?

The methodology could hardly be considered scientific, but the findings are nonetheless interesting.

According to the president of the Twelve Mile-Little Boshkung Property Owners Association, Ron Bilyk, individuals who purchase their coffee to go at Tim Hortons are the slowest drinkers in the world. The president made that assumption having participated in the association's annual roadside clean-up earlier this summer. His analysis is based on finding Tim Hortons coffee cups along the roadside his group has agreed to be responsible for and the fact that the closest outlet for that franchise, on the popular routes to the Haliburton Highlands in any direction, is at least 45 minutes away.

His comments did not extend to analysing the civic-mindedness of Tim Hortons coffee drinkers and why they think they can just toss their cup on the roadside, however long it takes them to enjoy the beverage.

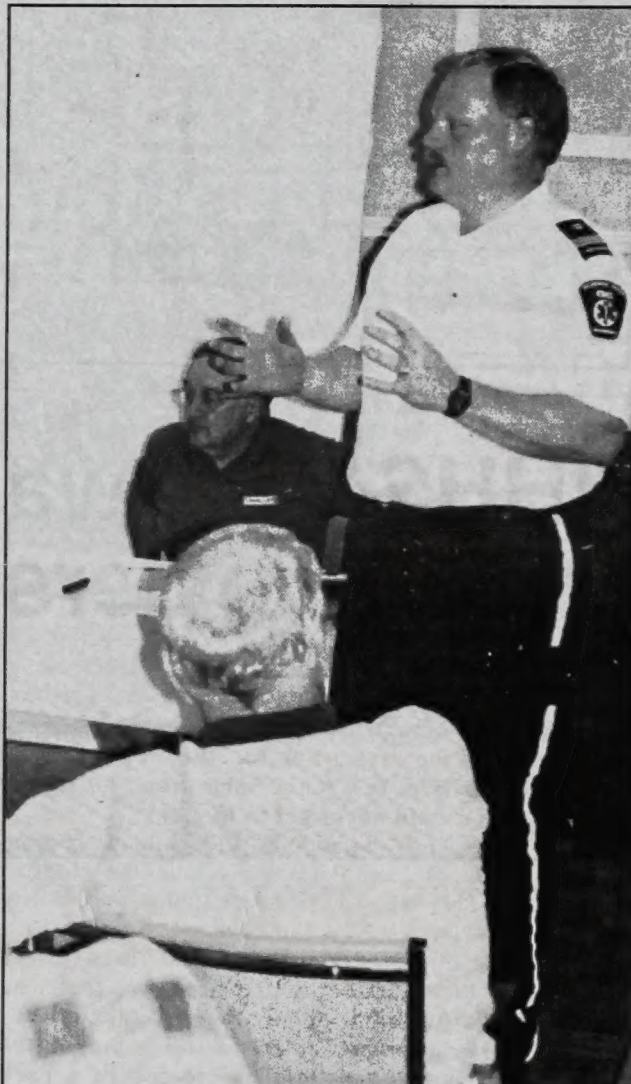

Despite his light-hearted approach to the subject, Bilyk told the meeting, August 18 at the Twin Lakes Resort, that he was disappointed with the turn-out for the clean-up day. He noted that the effort was first planned for early in July, but it had to be postponed and even with the rescheduling, only four participants attended. He noted the roadside clean-up is a good way help enhance the environment around the two lakes and reminded teenagers that the time spent working with the clean-up crew can count toward the 30 hours of community service required from all high school graduates. "It is work, but we have a lot of fun doing it and then enjoy a barbecue after it's all done." He challenged the membership of the organization to become more involved in projects like this.

He noted there is a lot to be learned on the edges of Ontario highways. "I can say as a result of personal knowledge, that local beer drinkers prefer Canadian 2.5 to one." More knowledge gleaned from the ditches of Highways 35 and 118.

Emergency Medical Services

Haliburton County Emergency Medical Services manager Bob English was the first of two speakers. He outlined to the members details about the provision of ambulance service in the Highlands.

English noted that the county assumed responsibility for ambulance service late last year. It had been previously managed by the province. He said the Ontario government is still closely involved in the operation of ambulances, setting standards, carrying out inspection and providing 50% of the funding, but the responsibility for managing the service rests with the county government.

EMS manager Bob English addresses the annual meeting of the Twelve Mile-Little Boshkung Property Owners Association.

"The ambulance service operated on a budget of $2.1 million," English told the members. "We have three staffed vehicles and a fourth vehicle that is available when one of the others is being serviced." He noted the ambulances are based in Minden and Haliburton, with each community having at least one 24 hour crew. The extra crew is added during the day to assist with medical transfers and at certain times on the weekends when past experience has shown the extra vehicle will likely be needed. He said he expects another ambulance will be added in the new year.

"The ambulances respond to about 4000 calls in the county per year," he said. English noted that while the permanent population of the county is about 15,000, that number can increase by a factor of four or more on busy weekends. "During the peak times I would say we are stretched to the limit," English stated.

He noted that the Haliburton County Emergency Medical Services is backed up by the four municipal fire departments, two of which have first response qualifications, to assist at the scene of accidents or other medical emergencies. As well, the EMS can call on the Air Ambulance Service operated by the province to quickly air lift patients to hospitals in Toronto. The federal Air/Sea Rescue out of Trenton is also available to assist in reaching injured individuals in remote areas of the Highlands.

English told the group that the three emergency services of Haliburton County meet once a month to co-ordinate their efforts. Representatives from EMS, the Ontario Provincial Police and the fire departments share information, ideas and suggestions on ways to improve services to the community. "This improved communication is working very well," he commented.

Asked by a member of the audience, English reported that each of the ambulances carries defibrillation equipment, which is used in the case of a heart attack, as do some of the first response fire department teams. He said the ambulances are also carrying a larger selection of medications and can administer them right on the scene, which is useful in cases where individuals are reacting to a bee sting or experiencing an asthma attack.

He said the EMS is looking forward to the introduction of the 9-1-1 emergency response system, which is still several years away, as it will assist ambulance drivers in locating residents and properties throughout the coverage area.

Councillor Bill Obee was in attendance to answer questions pertaining to the municipality. He noted that the previous municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden has been expanded so that it now includes the former municipalities of Lutterworth and Snowdon. He noted that the new municipality is governed by a seven member council. In addition to being a councillor, Obee is also a resident on Twelve Mile Lake.

A changing attitude

Editorial

The most serious concern on the minds of property owners throughout Haliburton County this summer has been the security of the water. It is the topic of discussion at most lake association meetings and has become a regular feature on the agenda of municipal and county meetings. Certainly the events of last year in Walkerton and the reports flowing out of the enquiry this summer have helped to sharpen our focus on the issue.

It is easy to become concerned about water. Next to clean air, clean water is the most important element in our life support system. Without it we perish or at least endure a life with greater hardships.

This country is fortunate in that it has an abundance of water, both in the supplies found above ground and those we tap into as sources for drinking. Some might suggest that we in fact have too much water and it leads to unnecessary consumption and less than a conservative attitude when it comes to protecting it.

If that attitude indeed exists, it appears to be changing for the better. People are starting to realize there is not perhaps an endless supply of inexpensive water at their disposal. They are beginning to appreciate that a noxious liquid disposed of anywhere within an aquifer will eventually become part of its mix. As changing weather and this summer's drought grew longer, it became more obvious, by its absence, how vital water, in the form of regular rainfall, is to sustaining the environment.

This heightened awareness is a major positive step. It means individuals will to be more active stewards of the water resources, resources which we all hold in common. Whether it is the water we play in, sail on or relax beside, the water we bathe in wash with or drink, the community is awakening to the importance of protecting this precious resource.

Generosity helps young artists

Letters

Editor:

This summer my granddaughter, Angela, had a most amazing experience for a young creative mind.

She spent half a day with David Risk and his family, who very generously gave their time to budding young artists. These young people were challenged to think in three dimensions and to put down on paper what they felt and saw.

The experience of being with such a renowned artist was friendly and helpful and never intimidating. It was liberating to know they could draw what they thought they were seeing and then look again and see more.

The experience of seeing waterfowl and animals so close was great for a city child. She now has a greater vision of her own creativity.

I want to let people know again that we have generous artistic people in this county who are willing to share their talents. How blessed we are for such a community and for people like David Risk and his family.

Thank you for helping my granddaughter to grow artistically and to look at her capabilities as a gift.

June Partridge,
Soyers Lake.

Food for thought

Editor:

This is a further comment on the IGA stores in Minden and Haliburton transforming the seniors' discount to a contribution to the school nutrition program as reported in last week's edition of The Times. A recent Statistics Canada report (The Daily, August 15) on a large nation-wide study of food insecurity found that: "Children, aged 0 to 17, were the age group most likely to live in a food insecure household, (14%), and seniors aged 65 years or older are least likely (4%)."

Stats Can defined a food insecure household as one in which the person responding to the survey worried funds would be insufficient to buy food and/or not eating the quality and variety of food desired and/or not having enough to eat. Ten percent of Canadian homes, three million people, lived in food insecure homes. The report notes that children in food insecure households were not necessarily undernourished because adults sacrificed their own diet so the children would not go hungry.

Good to see Haliburton County taking action even before the research is public.

1943: Tending livestock by boat

The following article is an excerpt from the Toronto Star, May 19, 1943. A far cry from this year's dry summer, Minden suffered severe flooding that spring:

WHITECAPS SEEN ON FIELDS,
FARMERS TEND FLOCKS IN ROWBOATS,
BRIDGE SWEEP AWAY

Special to The Star

Minden, May 19 — Five families in this county seat of Haliburton have been marooned in their homes since Monday following record-breaking rains in the northern lakes region. Gull river, which drains Horseshoe Lake and Twelve-Mile Lake, and which passes through the village, has risen to flood proportions. Already one bridge has been carried downstream.

Highway No. 35, linking Lindsay and Huntsville, remains open, but within the village the flood waters have reached the highway. Present conditions indicate even greater swellings of the river.

The marooned families, most of whom have dwellings in the bush country skirting the village, include John Goldie, Henry Graham, S.S. Taylor, Garnet Lazier and G. Graham. County Constable Lorne Pritchard reported that whitecaps were seen on plowed fields Monday.

"It's common to see boats, canoes and punts tied to veranda posts," the chief constable said. Water craft are used to get to the highway. Basements in the business section have been flooded, as have cellars in many homes. The school on the top of a hill remains open.

Harry Stevens, a farmer who operates a golf course, reported his private bridge carried downstream for a considerable distance.

Livestock have been driven to the hills, but chickens, their coops made into ponds by the flood, have been removed to haylofts and many farmers are using boats to tend their flocks. Rubber boots are in demand, but are of little protection in some spots where the water is from four to eight feet deep.

Ray Steele and Brad Campbell stand on the runningboard of their car in the middle of a pond created by the flood of 1943. The car is parked at approximately St. Germaine and Prince Streets near the current location of the public water tap.

A boy, a bike and a sack of papers

Okay, so I'm a geezer.

But there are certain privileges that come with Geezerhood.

I have, for instance, seen things that today's kiddies can scarcely imagine. Things like: Twelve inch, black and white television sets. Ice cream cones for six cents. Horse-drawn milk wagons clanking slowly down the streets. And kids with paper routes. Remember them?

The kids who delivered the afternoon newspaper to your porch six days a week? The routes themselves are still around, but they're serviced by adults. The kids, for the most part, are long gone — as are the afternoon newspapers, for that matter.

Dailies mostly come out in the early morning now. Pretty hard for a kid these days to juggle school classes AND a paper route. Pity.

A paper route was a great way for kids to get introduced into the workaday world. You found out right quick about things like... Reliability: "It's seven o'clock! You're two hours late with my paper!" ... High finance: "Yes, ma'am you owe $3.16 for the first two weeks of the month, plus $1.10 for last week because there was no paper on Friday which comes to...." Human frailty: "I'm sorry sonny, I only have a $20 bill. Could you come back, ummm, say...Thursday?"

You learned all that, plus how to balance 112 copies of The Star Weekend Edition in the flimsy carrier on your CCM one-speed without doing a one-and-a-half gainer into the asphalt.

Having a paper route meant un-kidlike responsibility. You couldn't always go off with the guys for a spontaneous game of pick-up hockey because your papers were waiting. You couldn't take that Friday night trip to the cottage, until you found a trustworthy pal to deliver your Saturday papers. You often had to deal with snarly dogs or surly customers. (I preferred the dogs). But there was a definite plus side.

For one thing, you had yourself some actual pocket money. And, if your timing on the route was right, your manners passable and your eyes suitably beseeching, you just might score an ice-cold glass of lemonade from a charitable granny. Even - glory! - a wedge of piping hot apple pie, fresh from the oven. Now I'm really dating myself.

Today that pie would be 'fresh' from the microwave, by way of Safeway, the lemonade would be Evian water and anyway there'd be nobody to serve it because Granny's in the old folks home and Mom and Pop are both out working to pay off the mortgage, heat, n hydro plus the maxed-out credit cards, not to mention the GST and the PST on everything from nachos to newspapers.

As for our kids these days, well, I hope they've figured out other ways to develop the innate guile you needed to be a prosperous paperboy. I was okay at it, but my pal, Johnny Charlton - he was the master. I still remember him standing at the corner of Lawrence Avenue and Roxaline Street, hawking his surplus newspapers to passers-by, yelling, "EXTRA! EXTRA! READ ALL ABOUT IT! SEVENTEEN PEOPLE SWINDLED!"

And a neighbour - Mister Rutherford - buys a paper, checks the front page, and says, "Hey! There's nothing here about 17 people being swindled!"

But Johnny doesn't respond. He's too busy yelling "EXTRA! EXTRA! READ ALL ABOUT IT! EIGHTEEN PEOPLE SWINDLED!"

Preparation started on Chamber lure book for 2002

The conceptual design of the 2002 Guide is coming along really well. The cover will be a modified version of the current book, and the content will be more nature-oriented to reflect our rugged landscape. The bottom line is fewer words, more white space, more varied use of photos, and very non-traditional layout.

We are extremely excited about this and are working very hard to make this book special! Sales are also going very well. Many thanks go out to the dozens of businesses that have already purchased ad space. If you don't have an info package, or want to advertise, please call Ann at 286-1760. If have any questions about the book, please call Carol Moffatt at 286-2675.

New brochure series

An exciting new brochure series is under way as part of the funding received from the Ministry of Tourism. The idea is to funnel the interest of the public directly to the brochures of our membership via a multi-level tourism-marketing program. Here's how it will work.

The Destination Guide (DG) will be the overall lure piece of the county. An overview, if you will. The DG will be complemented by the new brochure series that will provide information on specific areas of interest: Winter, Outdoors, Natural Wonders, Fishing, and Arts, Culture and Heritage. When a potential visitor expresses interest in, say, winter activities, we will provide the Winter brochure. It will focus specifically on activities like downhill skiing, cross country skiing, skating, ice fishing, snowmo-biling, dog sledding, etc. When a potential visitor sees that brochure and wants more info about, say, downhill skiing, then we will provide the Sir Sam's Ski Area brochure.

The idea of complementary marketing pieces with

Chamber News

by Carol Moffatt

a similar design theme is one being used more frequently by other tourism areas and some pro-active businesses. And it works. The contract for the design of the series has been awarded to County Commercial Printers, with designer/artist Robert VanNood riding shotgun. Robert and John's preliminary design concept is fresh, progressive and very exciting. The Winter brochure will be ready to take to the SuperTrax show in October and to Novi, Michigan in November. The remaining brochures will be ready for the spring Trade Show Season.

Partnership opportunities are available in the brochure series and we will be contacting some of our niche-market stakeholders to discuss it.

Final registration

The last chance for Highlands Storm Hockey registration is August 28 in Haliburton and August 30 in Minden from 7-9 p.m. at both arenas

Four-wheelers converge on Minden area

by Jerry Grozelle, with notes from Carolynn Leaman

They came from across central and southern Ontario, Quebec and as far away as Texas, gathering at the South Lake Tent and Trailer Park near Minden on the August 17-19 weekend. It was an invasion of sorts, but an invasion that Park owners Ken and Bev Vivian would be happy to welcome back any time. The invaders were four-wheel drive owners with an awesome array of off-road machinery, the likes of which Haliburton County has never seen before. In many cases, the resemblance to the vehicle's pedigree was strictly cosmetic. Huge tires, lift kits that would allow oil changes without jacking the vehicle up, winches and off-road lighting made it clear these were at home on the most rugged of trails.

More than 120 four-wheel drive owners and their families, nearly 300 people in total, gathered near Minden for a three-day weekend of trail rides, rock climbing and exploring the terrain of the area. The occasion was the first ever Canadian event in the Superlift 4XAdventure Tour and Trail Ride Series. The first of the five events of the series was held in Texas, followed by one in Indiana. The Minden event was the third in the series and the last two will be in Colorado and Alabama.

Rick Duval, a Director of the Northern Lights 4X4 Trailriders Association and a member of the Central Ontario 4 Wheel Drive Club, was the organizer and Trail Boss of the Minden event. He was pleased with the way the event turned out. "It was fantastic," he said. "We had nothing but positive responses."

The four-wheelers tested their vehicles on trails from Carnarvon to Bobcaygeon. Duval explained that the degree of difficulty of a trail is rated from 1 to 5, with one being the easiest and five the toughest (mild to wild). The trails in this area ranged from one to about four. Duval said the dry weather had a downgrading effect on the rating. With many of the water holes dried up, the trails were easier to navigate.

such a good group," she said. "It's the largest group we've ever had at the park. It usually takes us three days to clean up after a long weekend and this time it took just two hours. I really hope they come back next year. They were so much fun."

Vivian was impressed that the four-wheelers included the other park guests in their activities. "They got a lot of respect," she said, adding that they treated the park staff with respect.

"If they phoned and said they were coming back in two weeks, we'd welcome them with open arms. They were wonderful."

The series is sponsored by Superlift Suspension Systems, based in West Munroe, Louisiana and a team from Superlift, complete with a tractor trailer load of equipment, attended the event in Minden.

Sports in the Rough, another US organization, based in Ketchum, Oklahoma, and Ramsey Winches of Tulsa, Oklahoma were also involved in the inaugural Canadian event of this series.

Duval explained that the Northern Lights 4X4 Trailriders Association is a non-profit organization. It has 18 member clubs now and is growing steadily by one or two clubs per month. A total of 1,800 to 1,900 four-wheel drive enthusiasts are represented. Northern Lights is uniting four-wheelers and four wheel drive clubs under one umbrella, in the same way the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs has united snowmobilers in Ontario.

"We always welcome the opportunity to work with other trail users organizations to maintain the trails and help with signage, it's to everyone's benefit to work together to preserve the trails for all users. There is tremendous potential in the Haliburton area for four-wheeling events like this and they generate significant revenue for local businesses like South Lake Tent and Trailer Park. The average four-wheeling family — and as this event showed they are mostly families, many with moms, dads, kids and dogs — will spend between $200 and $300 a weekend in gas, food, parts and lodging," Duval said.

Offers by the organizers to take other park users for trail rides were eagerly accepted and on Sunday morning after the main trail rides had left for the day, a small convoy of five Jeeps pulled up to an eagerly awaiting crowd in front of the park store.

"This was one of the busiest weekends in the history of South Lake Tent and Trailer Park, and before the weekend was over they took the time to give anyone who wanted to go a demonstration ride," said Carolyn Leaman, a seasonal resident at the park.

FLEXIBILITY TEST: This Jeep CJ manoeuvres over a natural ramp on one of the trails. The photographer at right is Ken Brubaker, who was covering the event for 4 Wheel Drive and Sport Utility Magazine, as well as Off-Road Magazine.

"My granddaughter and I, and all who chose to go, were impressed. Slowly manoeuvring over rocks, avoiding branches, going straight up a big hill and then down the other side was quite an experience. These trails sure aren't built for speed."

The regular park residents were not the only ones impressed.

"One gentleman from Sports In The Rough I spoke to said he was taking back loonies, maple syrup and small Canadian flags for his daughter and her classmates," Leaman said.

Leaman said the Northern Lights group is a family oriented organization, which is "very friendly and more than willing to make themselves available to answer any and all questions regarding their vehicles, clubs, etc."

Duval and his organizing crew had the co-operation of the Ministry of Natural Resources and the Haliburton Highlands Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police. The event ran smoothly, even though smooth is not a commonly used word in these off-roaders' vocabulary.

Will the Northern Lights 4X4 Trailriders Association bring the event

TWISTED: A member of Off Roaders Anonymous, a club from Quebec and the newest member of Northern Lights 4X4 Trailriders Association, helped a friend with some repairs when he twisted a driveshaft and broke a spring during a difficult rock climb.

back to the Minden area next year? If the park owners and seasonal residents have their way, the group would be welcome back any time. Duval said it will depend on the co-operation of the local Chamber of Commerce and the municipal representatives. He's hoping to come back again. "It's a beautiful place to off-road," he said "and everyone at South Lake Park was fantastic."

If Leaman is representative of the rest of the seasonal residents of the park, there is no question that the off-roaders left a favourable impression.

"We would like to thank our visitors for a very interesting weekend, including the entertainment for the owners, staff, seasonal campers and their families," Leaman said. "We would really like to see them again in the very near future."

The park held a 50/50 draw, which the 4 wheelers participated in, with $161 in prize money going to the lucky winners. The other half of the money will be going to the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation. Park owners Ken and Bev Vivian topped up the donation to the Foundation by $39 to make it an even $200. Northern Lights has agreed to match that figure bringing the total donation to $400.

Anyone who is interested in the Northern Lights 4X4 Trailriders Association can get more information from its website at www.nl4x4.ca.

Sports in the Rough also has a web site: www.sportsintherough.com.

ADVENTURE

BOUND: Bill Holubeshen of Hol's Off-Road in Oakville, above, leads a group of four-wheelers in his vintage Bronco. The group was on the way to a trail run from the South Tent and Trailer Park, near Minden.

LETS GO 4-WHEELIN': Rick Duval, left, a member of the Central Ontario 4 Wheel Drive Club and a Director of the Northern Lights 4X4 Trailriders Association, takes eager passengers Carrie Crego and Bev Vivian for a ride in his Jeep YJ. Duval was the Trail Boss of the first ever Canadian event in the Superlift 4XAdventure Series.

Q: How often does my septic tank need pumping out?

A: The Ministry of the Environment recommends that you have your tank pumped on a regular basis. Every 2-3 years is suggested to avoid sludge reaching the outlet level and flowing into the leaching bed.

Final Highland Storm registrations this week

by Andy Lennox

With one week of registration completed and one more just around the corner, the excitement is building for the upcoming hockey season in Haliburton County.

The final registration dates are August 28 at the Haliburton arena and August 30 at the S.G. Nesbitt Memorial Arena in Minden. Registration is from 7 to 9 p.m. on both nights. These are the final registration dates, so make sure you get out there! Remember that try-outs begin the following week!

The full try-out schedule is available at registration, but here are the first times for each team:

Tyke 5	September 6-7
Haliburton Novice A 4	September 6-7
Novice B	September 13
Atom A	September 4
Atom AE	September 11
Atom B	September 13
Peewee A	September 4

Peewee AE	September 13	7-8	Haliburton
Bantam A	September 4	7-8	Minden
Midget A	September 4	8-9	Haliburton
Juvenile	September 4	8-9	Minden

County League players based in the Minden area will have their first ice time on September 18 from 5-6:30 p.m. and County League players based in the Haliburton area will have their first ice on September 22 from 10 a.m.-12 noon. The first two County League ice times will be used to evaluate players and select equal calibre teams. The County League regular season will begin on October 2.

A reminder to players in right-of-choice areas — if you were eligible to play hockey last year in Haliburton or Minden you are fully eligible to play for the new Highland Storm Association.

As players sign up, many are pleased to see that they will be getting 50% more practice time than they got last year. This was a top concern of many parents and players last year and we are pleased to have made progress with practice time.

Jo the Crow

The story of one family's special friend

It was really by coincidence that Ruth Goldhar discovered Jo the Crow.

Ruth, who has a place on Lake Kashagawigamog, was out "yard saling" one Saturday in the summer of 1999 when she stopped at the home Kris and Rosie Cadwell in Haliburton Village. As she looked through the items offered for sale she became aware of a large black bird perched nearby.

Kris introduced Ruth to Jo, a crow the Cadwell family had raised from approximately three weeks of age to a full adult, a bird that was as much a part of the family as any pet can be.

"I was fascinated by the crow," Ruth said. As she talked with the Cadwells she realized Jo would make an interesting and entertaining story. "It just clicked with me," the author said, "and so I arranged to spend some time talking with Kris and Rosie and their two sons Shawn and Karl to learn more about the crow."

The story, written for children, relates how Kris discovered the abandoned chick at a construction site and brought it home to raise. The bird quickly became part of the family. Jo the Crow relates the many amusing and interesting incidents that were part of the Cadwells' experiences as they raised the bird to adulthood. Sprinkled throughout the story are interesting facts about crows.

The story concludes with an emotional telling of how the bird was returned to the wild.

The book also contains an informative list of facts about crows and an interview with Dr. Kevin McGowan, of the Museum of Vertebrates at Cornell University, who provides some interesting background on the birds.

There is also a chapter on legends surrounding crows and a closing chapter by Kris Cadwell, relating his personal experiences with the crow called Jo.

This is Ruth Goldhar's first book and she thinks there may be other interesting stories to be told about animal/human interaction. "I am looking for others to tell," she said, inviting people to contact her through the publisher, Chestnut Publishing Group.

Ruth can be contacted through the vice president of the company, her husband, Harry Goldhar, at 416-486-7919 or by email at hgoldhar@employsmart.com

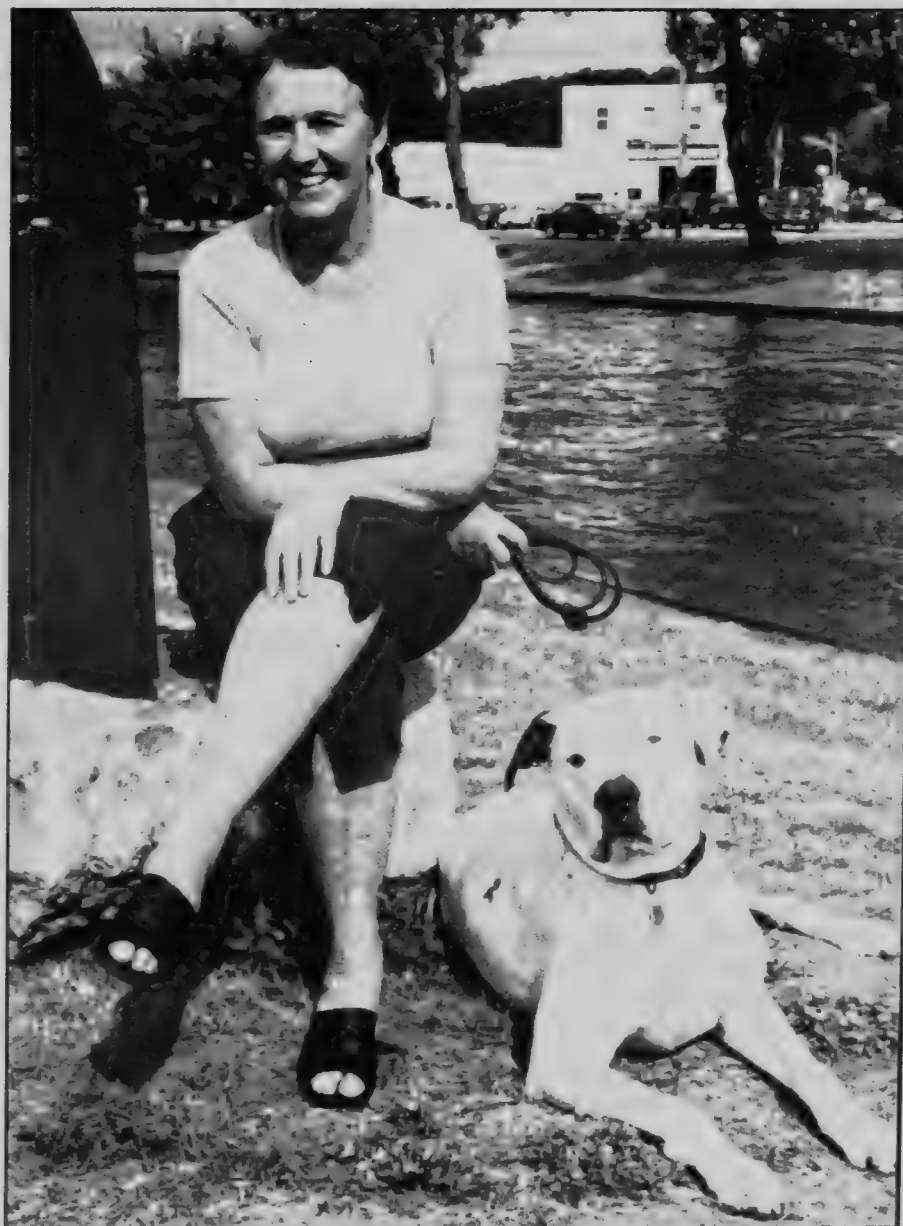

Jo the Crow is available at local book stores for $12.95. It will also be in Haliburton County Libraries.

OUT FOR A WALK: Karl, Shawn, Rosie and Kris and a very special friend named Jo.

CROW BAR: Jo keeps an eye on the passing scene from his perch on an old basketball hoop.

AUTHOR: Ruth Goldhar, with the family dog Django, discovered an interesting story about a crow while cruising yard sales in Haliburton.

Pickin' n grinnin' and grillin'

A large crowd was on hand to enjoy the music of the Grandfathers with singer Lisa Allison during the Friday night free Music by the Gull concert in Minden. Over 200 people pulled up a piece of lawn or brought along lawn chairs to enjoy the music and an ideal summer evening. Members of the band include Don Birch on harmonica, Don Smith on fiddle, singer Lisa Allison, guitarists Charlie Hadley and Lloyd Madill. The Minden Health Centre Auxiliary were also on hand serving up barbecued hot dogs and pop to the audience. Gord Monk, right, was the master at the grill with assistance from his wife Donna, and other members of the auxiliary. The effort raised $270 for health care. Appearing this Friday, August 31, for the final concert of the year will be two choral groups, the Gentlemen of Song and Out Loud, Womyn's Voices. The concert begins at 7 p.m.

Almost as many household as there are people in Minden Hills

He told the members of the association that the new jurisdiction has a population of about 5000 with a household count of close to 6000. He pointed out the discrepancy between the two figures is the difference between permanent population and all the households, including cottages, within the municipality.

He told the meeting that the municipality's budget has increased by just under 1%. But he cautioned that there was a larger increase at the county level and the area had been subject to a reassessment and so some property owners, particularly those with lakefront property, may experience a significant tax increase. "I have heard of some instances where the taxes have gone up as much as 40%," he said, indicating the reassessment was the reason.

The meeting heard that the municipality has approximately $2 million in reserves, which provides a cushion for major expenses. Minden Hills is also paying $700,000 toward the cost of policing done by the OPP in the county, an expense the local municipalities never had to deal with in the past.

Obee advised the members that they should continue to use the dumps they have in the past and that despite the amalgamation, dump passes are not accepted across the old municipal borders. He noted that requesting such access from the Ministry of Environment would result in the certificates of approval for all the dumps being re-examined, a costly process. So, for the moment, residents are being asked to use the landfill sites within their former municipalities only.

The councillor did have good news for property owners, pointing out that the Scotch Line landfill site, the one they are most likely to use, is estimated to have a 40 year life span.

In other matters, the councillor noted:

- the municipality will be enacting a clean and clear bylaw later this year to help control unsightly properties;
- the municipality is responsible for designating the names of all streets within its jurisdiction as part of the run-up to the implementation of 9-1-1 emergency service.

- the municipality is considering introducing a septic system inspection program. Obee said there are a number of problems to be addressed before such a program could be implemented, but he felt it was important to protect the water quality in area lakes. He said the municipality is looking at several options including a re-inspection of all septic systems, limiting it to those 20 years of age or older, triggering a reinspection when a property is sold and/or responding to complaints about improperly operating systems. Obee estimated that the inspection program could cost each household $40. "We are looking to have this started, perhaps next year," the councillor suggested.

Membership down

Association treasurer Don Smith reported that the decrease in membership has had an impact on the group's finances. "There are close to 300 properties on the lake and the membership this year is just 125." He noted this compares with 140 the year before.

New web address and new books at the library

Joel Levis, County Librarian

The Haliburton County Public Library has had a popular website for some time now, containing current information of staff, local hours, policies and catalogue information as well as a listing of videos and other materials available. It will enable you to receive our electronic newsletter and you can even place InterLibrary Loans electronically ... a service that keeps getting better and better!

But one of the main concerns expressed about the site was the address. Bookmarking is fine but if this is a skill that eludes you (as it does many of us) and there are over 50 individual characters to be entered well, it can be frustrating!

However, we have now changed our address: www.haliburtonlibrary.ca Easy to remember - and you don't have to bookmark it if you don't want to - it will lead you into the ever-widening world of information and technology.

Twelve Mile-Little Boshkung POA struggles with falling membership

"We are looking for ways to improve out communications using email or road captains," he said. The organization needs to increase its membership if it is going to continue to be a viable body.

President Ron Bilyk also asked for volunteers to serve on an environmental committee to oversee the health of the lake. "There are a lot of good resources available through the Federation of Ontario Cottagers Association," he noted. "FOCA has been instrumental in working with the municipalities and province on developing programs to assist lakefront property owners in protecting fish habitat and water quality. We need to share this information with all our members." He asked for individuals to volunteer for the committee.

The association also presented Haliburton Highlands Health Services Chair, Jack Brezina, with a cheque for $250 for the health services Foundation. Brezina thanked the members for continuing support of the capital project and advised them that there is just one million dollars more to go to retire the public portion of the debt.

New officers

The association elected officers for the next two years. Don Smith has chosen as president. Assisting him will be Ron Bilyk and Lorraine Gilmor as vice presidents, Howard Poland as Secretary/Treasurer and Mickey Kalm as director responsible for communications.

Retiring president Ron Bilyk expressed his appreciation for the support and assistance he has received over the years, including the many volunteers who assisted with a variety of events and activities.

Incoming president Don Smith reiterated that if the lake association hopes to survive, it will need to increase its membership. "We can do that through improved communications, with a road captain program, a website and continuing to encourage volunteers to help with our efforts."

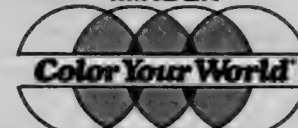

Before the meeting closed, appreciation was expressed to the new owners of Twin lakes Resort for providing the venue and refreshments for the meeting.

Haliburton lake levels 14% below average

The following report was prepared by Parks Canada on August 21:

The drought was reclassified by the Ontonabee Conservation Authority in the lower reaches of the watershed to a level 2 last week. Despite a welcomed 30 mm of rain experienced in Peterborough over the weekend, the level 1 drought remains in effect in the Peterborough region. The fire-ban imposed by the MNR has been lifted, and most lake levels have recovered slightly.

The Kawartha Lake levels are currently 2% lower than the long-term average, though Lake Scugog is the only lake that continues to be a navigation risk. The flow in the Ontonabee has not been significantly altered since last week, and it remains at the summer minimum.

In Haliburton, the total storage average has now reached 51.5%, 14.1% lower than the long-term average. This percentage is equivalent to levels normally experienced in mid to late September. Both the Gull and the Burnt rivers have continued to flow slightly under the August normal.

Haliburton County economic initiative gaining momentum

by Peter Rigby—General Manager/Economic Development Officer, Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce

The Economic Development initiative for the County is now starting to gain speed with the development of several initiatives. The inaugural meeting of the Connect Haliburton committee took place on August 17. The task of this committee is to develop the business case required to improve all aspects of communications within the County. Some of the objectives include:

- To provide enhanced education opportunities for our children
- To provide enhanced medical services for the health of our community
- To allow our businesses to compete in the global market place
- To help in the attraction of businesses to the community for increased employment opportunities, and
- To improve and enhance the overall life style of the residents of Haliburton County

The Chamber is developing a Business Retention and Expansion survey for the County of Haliburton. This survey is designed to look at the opportunities for expansion and the barriers that are faced by local business. From this information we will be able to look at ways of improving our competitiveness and increasing employment in the County.

This initiative will take place in conjunction with the County, the Townships, the Haliburton County Development Corporation and the Economic Diversification Committee, but above all we need your participation in this survey. Give us an hour of your time because it is through your contribution that we will be able to develop the strategy needed to improve the economy of the County.

In order to make businesses in Ontario and North America aware that Haliburton County is an ideal location to set up a business, the Chamber is booking its first two economic development ads. Using a life-style theme, we will be placing ads in Area Development Magazine, considered to be the leading site selection magazine in North America and in "Ontario - Canada's Business Centre", a publication of the Economic Development Council of Ontario.

Both of these issues are annual directories that will give us long term exposure to over 25,000 top executives and site location consultants in North America. Other initiatives include: A Haliburton County business-to-business trade show where Haliburton businesses can network with other local businesses. This will provide you with an opportunity to represent your products and services while at the same time finding out what others have to offer.

The Chamber is developing a meeting of the key players in the County of Haliburton who are involved in economic development. Participants will include the County, the Townships, the BIA's, the Economic Diversification Committee, Haliburton County Development Corporation, Fleming College and the Sustainable Forestry Association. The purpose of this meeting is to set out the game plan required and the role that each group will play in our efforts to attract business to the County.

So, as you can see, we are pushing ahead in our efforts to improve the economic health of the County, which will mean more employment opportunities for our residents.

CRTC Reviewing Rules for Local Telephone Service Prices

Regulatory rules regarding local telephone service prices are now under review by the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission (CRTC) as part of Public Notice CRTC 2001-37 - Price Cap Review and Related Issues. As part of this process, Bell Canada has filed proposals with the CRTC that are intended to:

- Ensure that competition is maintained and encouraged in Canada's healthy, competitive telecommunications market;
- Encourage investment in the communications industry, ensuring continued innovation and leading-edge technology;
- Extend and improve local service in many remote areas; and
- Ensure prices for local service remain affordable.

Canadian Industry Facts

Today, Canadians benefit from a world-leading communications industry with some of the most advanced and lowest priced telephone services anywhere.

- Canadian prices for basic local service are lower than comparable services in other major industrialized countries.
- Long distance prices in Canada have fallen more than 40 per cent since the introduction of competition.
- Close to 99 per cent of Canadians have basic telephone service, a higher percentage than in the U.S.
- Canadians benefit from the world's lowest prices for Internet access (both dial-up and high-speed).

For many services, such as long distance, wireless and Internet access, Canada's low prices are a direct result of competition and clearly demonstrate the benefits of reliance on market forces.

Highlights of the Bell Proposal

While the prices for many services are subject to market forces alone, local telephone services, such as the basic connection to the home and office and payphone services, are subject to a number of regulatory rules. Bell's proposal, which would come into effect over a four-year period beginning in 2002, does not call for specific price changes for regulated services. Rather, it recommends a framework that would limit any local service price changes, subject to CRTC approval, based on the following:

- Monthly prices for basic local residential and business services in most areas could increase, on average, by no more than the annual rate of inflation;
- Monthly prices for basic service in rural and remote areas - where prices today are far below the cost of providing the service - could increase by no more than $2.00 each year, to a maximum monthly charge of $29.65 at the end of the four-year period;
- Ongoing monitoring of the effects of price increases on affordability would continue;

- Customers would receive rebates if CRTC-mandated quality of service indicators were not met; and
- The flexibility to increase prices of payphone service (affecting indoor payphones only, where the price could increase over the four-year period to 50 cents per call). Payphone prices have not changed since 1981.

And with our latest Service Improvement Plan, Bell is proposing to invest $41 million to connect, over two years, more than 500 remote localities in Ontario and Quebec where basic local telephone service is currently unavailable.

Through gradual and moderate increases in basic residential service prices, service would remain affordable, while encouraging greater competition and innovation.

How to Participate in the CRTC Proceeding

Initiated in March, 2001, the Price Cap Review and Related Issues proceeding follows up on key regulatory decisions that opened up Canada's telecommunications industry to competition in the 1990s.

If you would like to file written comments, please do so by writing to the Commission, with a copy to Bell, by October 15, 2001, at the following addresses:

CRTC:
Secretary General
CRTC
Ottawa, Ontario
K1A 0N2
Fax: (819) 953-0795

E-mail: bell.regulatory@bell.ca

A public hearing is scheduled for the first two weeks of October in Hull, Quebec. October 1, 2001, is reserved for comments from the public, which may be given in person or by teleconference. To present oral comments, you must register by writing to the CRTC at the above address by September 20, 2001, specifying whether you intend to participate in person or by teleconference.

Please note that more information about the proceeding is available on the CRTC web site (<http://www.crtc.gc.ca/PartVII/Eng/2001/8678/C12-11.htm>) or by calling 1-877-249-CRTC (2782).

Bell's proposal is also available for examination on the CRTC web site. If you have questions specific to the Bell proposal, please call 1 866 625-0586.

Residents visit the fall fair

Here we are again ready to chat with you, so grab a cuppa and have a sit down. Where do we start? Well let's begin by telling about our visit to the fair. Only a few of us attended this year as our bus has been in for maintenance. Those residents who went, Harold Orsborn, Margaret Foote, Roy Nicholls, Hazel Gregory, Lilian Millar, Bessie Burke and Bill Redgrave. Thanks to the volunteers who very kindly used their own vehicles to escort them. They all reported a good time, enjoying the opening ceremonies, parade and the band "Forgotten Memories". All in all a real good outing!

The Pickards were here for our Happy Hour, which was a lot of fun. They played a variety of music, which was much enjoyed. Not only do we thank our entertainers for a lovely afternoon but also Don Sisson for portering some of us around. Your help is much appreciated.

Our card players gathered again this week and enjoyed a session of euchre. Marjorie Watt with Lilian Millar defeated Margaret Besse and Roy Nicholls two games to one. The other group Mary Goldsmith and Alice Sedgewick won two games to one against Harold Orsborn and Bill Redgrave. Roy said he would take a turn at losing and as for Bill "no comment". It will be interesting to see if these gentlemen have their revenge next week. The big winners at the horse races this week were Nellie Ranson and Hazel Whittaker. Seems to us that Nellie's name gets mentioned often, guess she has that special touch with the horses.

Our exercises are fun. For example there's the bean bag toss. Harold Orsborn is good at that while Lilian Harrison excels at horseshoes. Another day residents made some ladybugs with the help of Janelle and Kristen Campbell. Hazel Gregory, Harriet Loucks, Muriel Welch, Winnie Barnum, Violet Danilko all pitched in to make these cute critters and had great fun doing so. Thanks to their helpers!

We were delighted to have Olive and Weldon a couple of days ago for Praise and Song. Germaine Levesque,

Senior League

by the Roving Reporters

Nina Prentice, Alice Sedgewick, and Mary Goldsmith, were very pleased they were able to attend. Pastor Dan Millard joined us for Sunday Chapel and we welcomed his wife and their young student to the service: a lovely gathering! A Memorial Service for Thelda Weston was held with Rev. Everall with communion following. We were glad that Thelda's daughter was able to be with us as we paid our respects to her mother.

There was a wonderful group of ladies who visited us for our Pub Night, seven of them in fact. They are part of a larger group who have a seniors choir called "Windsong Choir" there are about forty of them apparently and they will be entertaining at the C.N.E. this year. They can also be heard on 107.7 FM radio station. Their repertoire of music was 50's and 60's, the war years, theatre tunes as well as modern day songs. They even had bubbles. The group that entertained us hailed from different areas, such as Head Lake, Fenelon Falls and Kinmount. They weren't able to spend much time with us, but the time was very much enjoyed.

They were fabulous and we would certainly love to have them again. It was so enjoyable hearing such a variety of music and many of us were able to join in the singing. As for the bubbles, well they provided a lot of laughs. Doreen Samells was busy trying to break all of them and did a wonderful job of breaking most. Bill Redgrave loved all the jokes and we all heard him giggling on his way back to his room. A wonderful evening for which we send our thanks.

We must remember to tell you that those pictures of the facials have been posted. We won't tell you who the token male was so you will have to come and see these photos for yourselves. We think we have a good sport! You will find them outside the activity rooms on both floors. Good shots, they are certainly worth the visit.

Birthday wishes go to Marion Chinery who celebrates on August 28th and Pauline Maciejok on August 29th. A happy birthday to both of you!

Roy Nicholls who recently celebrated a birthday wanted to thank Bob and Dottie, the United Church Women and Residents Council for their birthday cards. He also enjoyed his own birthday cake. He said it took him a little time to finish it, but finish it he did.

That's it folks; we've run out of news. Let's hope we didn't forget anything. If we did we will just have to add it next week. We leave you with this thought...

"The past cannot be changed, the future is still in your power"

Beat the temptation.

ATTENTION EVENT ORGANIZERS

The Ministry of Tourism wants to hear from you about funding!

The Ministry of Tourism is undertaking a study to analyse and improve the funding of festivals and events in Ontario. The Ministry would like ALL events and festivals to participate in a survey being performed by an independent consultant.

If you organize an event, regardless of size, related to Nature, Sports, Community Celebrations, Art Galleries, Museums, Historical Events, Parades, Transportation, Agricultural, a Carnival, Holiday Celebrations, Performing Arts or Horticulture ... the Ministry wants to hear from you!

All information supplied remains CONFIDENTIAL between you and the consultant.

The deadline for sending information has been extended to August 29, 2001 -- so hurry!

To make it easier for you, we've put the survey on the county website. Go to www.county.haliburton.on.ca then click on Events and then click on Ministry of Tourism Survey and follow the instructions.

If you have any questions, please call Carol Moffatt at the Chamber of Commerce at 286-2675.

Our community has GREAT events.
Let's do our part to help the Ministry help us!

Around the County Town

by Nora Snyder (call 286-4450; email <mindenhouse@on.abn.com>)

Summer events, fall events, all happening, have happened or will happen in the Haliburton Highlands. On the cusp of the summer and fall. Hard to believe.

A reminder of the Andre Lapine exhibit on display at the Agnes Jamieson gallery. I went up last week and had a peek. I hadn't realized how prolific he was as a painter. There are paintings in every style from the permanent collection and from private collections. Another accomplishment to be proud of in Minden!! The Minden Memories; A Photographic Excursions in the Highlands is also wonderful to behold. Lots of images of our landscape. Catch it all before September 2.

The eighth annual variety show, this year entitled 'CF2K1', was by far the most entertaining yet! Hosted by the Marsdens on Horseshoe Lake on the Civic Holiday weekend, invited guests included Milt and Fay all the way from Fort Erie, Dale and Joy from Toronto and Bill and Betty and Ken and Shelley from Newmarket. The 'DEWKD' production was hosted by Derek who provided hilarious comedy routines during costume and set changes. "Thriller", Mamma MIA', 'Pop' and 'Dan' were among the awesome performances choreographed and sung by Lizz, Katherine and Dan. Supervisor Will expertly video taped the event while security guard, Shelley, kept the crowd under control (whenever she was not singing or dancing herself!) Milt 'Vim' Horne once again did a fantastic job with the refreshments at intermission, leaving some still searching out those 'burritos'! Way to go everyone! Is 'CF2K2' in the works yet?

Tuesday, September 4 is time for the monthly meeting of the Minden and District Horticultural Society at the Minden Community Centre at 7:15 p.m. Mina Clappison, an O.H.A. judge from Coburg will be the guest speaker talking on "Flower Arrangements with Mother Natures Help". There are no containers; just nature. It is an evening for "Apple Treats" so bring out your favourite!! Everyone is welcome!

The Haliburton Traditional Rug Hookers first meeting of the new season is on Monday, September 10 at the West Guilford Community Centre. Please call 286-4112 or 286-4123 with all your inquiries.

The Haliburton Highlands Genealogy Group's next meeting is Wednesday, September 12 at the Minden Public Library starting at 6 p.m. Members please consider either volunteering yourself or submitting your nominations for position of HHGG Chairperson for 2002. These nominations will be voted on during our meeting on November 14.

At 7 p.m. Russ Wunker, from Miner's Bay Lodge, will talk about "The Early Settlement of Miner's Bay". This will be a really interesting talk as he explains what happened in this place was typical of the changes being made in the Haliburton area. Russ has a deep interest in pioneer life and is justly proud of the part his family played in the development of the area.

There will be a Bridge and Euchre Party on Wednesday, September 26 from 1 to 3:30 p.m. at the Hyland Crest Auditorium and Health Room. There will be refreshments and prizes. Cost is $6 per person with the proceeds going to the Minden Health Care Auxiliary. Tickets are available at the Gift Shop at the Hyland Crest entrance or please call 286-4531 or 286-6897.

Hoping you are all getting enrolled in your favourite autumn pastime.
